Madrid, Spain:
You will hear some "madrileños" proudly say, "from Madrid to Heaven". Perhaps they are exaggerating "un poquito", but Madrid is certainly a charming and seductive city.

The schools is located in the Salamanca district, a bustling area of restaurants, bars, tapas bars and stores, also has the best shopping in the city. Exploring the city after school reveals much more.

Madrid is a mixture of centuries-old traditions and modern metropolis, well reflected in the films of Pedro Almodovar. Madrid has always captivated creative people: Hemingway, Francis Bacon, Ava Gardner and Miles Davis have all fallen in love with the Spanish capital.

Program in Madrid, Spain:
The intensive Spanish courses develop the four main Spanish language skills: speaking, listening, reading and writing as well as improve grammar, vocabulary and pronunciation.

The classes focus on communication, which will enable the student to enrich his/her vocabulary, to improve fluency and develop confidence in the language.
